[F J Biddle in American Journalist] The difference in the work upon a Parlsian paper and one in English speaking lands is not more marked than the effect upon the perthere are men in this country who become thrown as did Hornee Grooley but it is safe to say that the average intelligent American could not give the names of haif a dozen newspaps; men outside his own city, and not nawspaper men outside his own City, and not increase than those of three or four Englishmen connected with the press.

They know faibout here because his capital it is un ling sh. They know delightful, polished the age Augustus Sala because, while breachasting in bed, journeying the north, or demaning the world with his thin belongs to the fraternity, and in he does, but is about as like the average as the unharness able zibin is to the Flemish drought horse. How many know what Jove hards the thundril dits of The Times! In France all this is different. A paper is read for its editorial alone. I very at take is signed even the tole-gram must be at the name of the agent and he is promptly proceduled if the news is false. He must not have he it is said to hensely evidence will not do. The news must be true, or not even finited at the articles all bear the names of the writers. Sometimes these are a sum of the the lesself in must be known. array same 1 but their bearing must be known

For drawings there is the same rule. Indeed, these noins to phinic are transparent mask: Who in I made did not know that Chain, the great contributor to The Chair man of ha hane Ropese, is M do Guines, and so with all. As a rish, however, it is only the great man who wishes to speak to the and own main that he is so well known, the property of the interest of the man and the interest of the man is at one is to be counted, and instead of the man losing his identity in the power wielded by the paper he himself, in his own person, is sought after caressed, a leader in the world of fashion as well as of letters. has nothing but her capital to look to The advertisement business of the Parisian newspaper press is entirely managed by one company, and each paper is paid by this company, in proportion to or culation, for matter inserted. There are also small advertisements more or less of the personal kind, received at the office of the paper itself, and for it alone, but there are of little value, and it is the subscriber, not the advor-

The papers are sold, not by flying, bare feeted unthins—indeed a bare feet or a rent garment is not allowed by the police to appear in the street—but protty little kicks. like fandful sentry boxes, line the principal streets and the trade of selling the papers from these is largely in the hands of elderly woman. All of the newspaper offices are more placer of resort than in America, but The leigner has a gorgious dwelling place, with reading rooms and a museum, where all are welcome, and where thousands seem to like to

It will be remarked that the Paris new papers contain ancedotes and stories which could not be printed in any English or American publication. It must, however, be re-membered that while the come certainly no wonse than the shocking advertisements pub-ished in America that in France no boy, no young girl nor moderately young married woman is allowed to read the newspaper Here they are everywhere in the hands of the girl changing to womanhood, with theh 'porsonals' and the vile notices of the quacks, doing thus more harm than the more amusing, more plainly told anecdote which, in France is only read by those old enough to be used to self government

In review it may be said that in France journalism is the field of personal renown, and the journalist the bulliant social lion. In England, and nmeh more in America, the journalistic writer is a man who morges his individual iden tity in the force and power of the paper. In Linna e it is Mr. So and So, whom, you read, admire or condemn. Here it is The Herald or The Times | The American Mr. So and Se or The Times—The American Mr. So and So may die, and you who have read his articles for a quarter of a century, do not know his name. Perhaps a Gambetta might be possible here, or even a swissh backling De Cassagnac, with his stinging pon and twenty duels, but faultless adherence to his political faith. THE Greenville, S. C. News is a paper that has the courage of its convictions. It does not scruple to say that Governor Ben Butler "is a type of all that is mean, false, brutal and despicable," but it bravely adds in the same article: "If by any froak of insanity a Democratic convention should nominate him for president, we would support him, because this paper is Democratic and will always be loyal to its party." When Butler makes his next characteristic assault upon the newspapers, he should somehow work in a few exceptionalizing words for the News, the only southern paper that has, so far, been kind enough to promise him its sup "Turn the reseals out." There i no city in the country that is officially so completely under the domination of the Democratic party as New York. The World of that city, a Democratic paper, has this start ling statement of the late discovery of the plundering and theft that are being disclosed in connection with the departments of the city govern It is said Comptroller Grant has discovered in the examination of the Bareau of the City Revenue and Markets that $600,000 is unpaid or unaccounted for. Much of this is for rents from corporations and oth ers for the use of city property. The matter has been placed in the Cor poration Counsel's hands. According to all accounts, the mu nicipal affairs of the city of New York are in the hands of as bad band of thieves now as they were whon Boss Tweed and his gang plundered the city trensury to the tune of millions annually.

Tax Cincinnati Commercial tla zette reminds the Prolabitionists of Chie that if their pet amendment to the Constitution had been carried. they would still have needed a major ity of the Logislature before such an smendment could be enforced. There was a delusive notion abroad before fall amount of profit in transactions of the week as prices have been pretty steadily in distance. Collections are good and not-withstanding the large mercase in the numthe election that if the amendment prevailed, it would have magically closed the door of every saloon in ber of fallures, lesses as yet by had debte Ohio. When it was shown nothing of the sort would happen, and that the grain markets are irregular models against hazislative reinforce. ment to give the amendment effect, the assertion, though backed by the boot togal eniment of the state, was received with a shout of dension Yet nothing was truer. The amend ment adopted, the contemplation would have recurred biennially on the complexion of the Legislature, and the anti Prohibitionists on the ene side, backed by the money of a great vested interest, would have been able to carry a unjority of the Legislature, and the said amond ment would have been a dead letter for years to come. If the Ohio Prohibitionists can capture the Logisla ture, there is nothing in the Constitution, as it now stands, to prohibit them from abole-hing the manufacture and sale of intoxicants within the limits of the state. From the Bloomington Lord r.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 20.-A fright n) tragedy occurred Thursday in Richwood l'ownship. Jankson county, about ten miles cast of Newport. The participants vere Chas. Ford and Joe Sutherland, and the tragedy is the result of a long-standing fend. Sutherland was killed. He was o heard citizen for many years, and was in constant trouble, being both hated and feared by his neighbors. Despite the laws he went armed at all times. Some months since he had a misunderstanding with g'ord, and threatoned to kill him on sight. Thursday they came face to face on a coun try road, Ford having a double-barreled shotgur. The men saw oach other some time before they met. As they closed in Sutherland moved one of his hands, as if to draw a revolver, when Ford brought his gun to his shoulder and fired both barrels, killing his adversary instantly. The decrased was quite well-to-do, owning a fine farm. He leaves a family.

Another Good Man Gone Astray. Augusta, Ga., Oct. 20.-Wm. C. Derry, a prominent church man, father of St ames church of Augusta, and book-keepe of the Macon Telegraph and Messenger last November, wrote Col. Hausen, propri knowledging having appropriated $1,000 of the company's money. Col. Hanson paid the money for him and did not mention the fact, keeping him in his employ until he could seeme another position. In the meantime Derry took $800 more of the com pany's money, covering it with faine on irles. Derry, fearing detection, tooksandanum, wrote a confession, and dled; yeste day morning. H. Hyams, coming from New York. Chainwald recovered judgment against Hyams a few days ago for $78,000. The complaint avers Ilyams was fraudulently disposing of his property to defeat the claims of creditors. A telegram yesterday states that Ilyams applied for a writ of habeas corpus, but it is not believed he will be re-leased.

Requisition Honored.

SPRINGPRELD. III., Oct. 20.-Gov. Hamilton yesterday granted the requisition of the governor of Minnesota for the surrender of Bill Nelson and George Washington, who are wanted in the latter state to answer a charged of murder. The men are it present confined to the Chester penten-tlary, to which they were sentenced by the Alexander Clrenit court for highway rebbeye. In order to grant the requisition the governor found it necessary to remit the unexpired portion of their sentence.

Bloomington is to have the electric light. A gain of stalwart citizens have taken hold of the matter and will push it through to completion. One by one the oities throughout the state are falling into line and the dismal, yellow and ex pensive gaslight is giving way to the beautiful rays of the electric light. Chi-cago, Springfield, Decatur, East St. Louis, Peoria, Aurora, Ulgin, Rock Island, Quincy and several other cities either already have it or are soon to have the ready have it or are soon to have the light. Lincoln, Pekin, Galesburg, Jack-sonville, Paris, Danville, Champaign and many others are talking about adopting it. The smaller places will fall in in their turn, and every city that adopts it will be proud of it if the proper system is secured. Electricity discounts gas by shout a thousand per cont The hardest blow that has been struck the gas monepoly in Quincy was the introduction of the electric light. It gives perfect satis-

Some of our competitors are constantly try-ing to misload the unsuspecting by quietly whispering in their ears, the hophistical theo-ry, that large expenses necessarily enhance attack than cheapen merchandles. But this is inflacions, because all depends on the amount October of business done in proportion to expenses.

LINN & SCRUGGS retail more goods than lists dry goods stores in Becatur.

They are not obliged to pay THE RENT of SIX STORE-ROOMS. Nor the INSURANCE and TAXES on SIX stocks of goods. Nor as much for clerk hice as those six stores would aggregate. But more than all, Linn & Scritch at ont obliged to support EIGHT or TEN families. Nor divide the profits between EIGHT or TEN PARTNERS—as is the case with these SIX STORES—all of which would make a difference of twenty-five or thirty thousand dollars a year in two of Lann & Scritches. WANTED-A good girl, at No. 345, West Prairie street. J. R. GORIN. 20-48t*

But this is not ell. Linn & Schuggs, in view of their large purchases from first hands, save from twenty-five to thirty thousand dellars more a year, which added to the amount savet in their oxpenses, will make a difference of FigPY or SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLARS A YIGAR, which amount Linn & Schuggs save or those who purchase their goods of them. Besides, another important item, is a shrink-lage of values in goods, which would not be as great in one as in six stores.

If there be any to dispute our reckening, we should be glad to hear from them through the SAME MEDIUM we adopt.

CARPENTER ARRESTED TO-DAY.

Mrs. Fannie Carpenter, a widow lady living on Franklin street, in Decatur, was lover of Zora Burns, the girl who was murdered at Lincolp, was in Decatur last night and left for Lincoln this morning to testify before the coroner's jury. He was engaged to the girl, and it is claimed that he knows something about the murder. He had a room at the New Deming. He was wholly non-communicative. He paid his bill early and left. The 34th Murder. The murder just committed at Lincoln makes the 34th committed in Logan county, and the most severe possity incurred has been a term of imprisonment. Is it not about time we adopted a more strin-gent method of dealing with assassins? We have always been averse to capital punishment, but the record of our county is growing too ghastly to contemplate calmly. It looks as though we should be compelled to fight devils with fire.—Mt. Pulaski Citizen. Downing Much Better. This forenoon Harvey W. Downing was resting splendidly, for a man with a hole in his cheek and a sore jaw. He wanted to get up this morning and go down stairs, but of course he was not permitted to do so. He is able to move about on his bed without assistance, and can speak with greater ease than he could last night. The surgoons say Harvey is doing rcmarkably well, and there is every indication that he will ultimately recover. He is able to take liquid nourishment and seems quite cheerful. This will be good news to the many friends of the wounded young man, scores of whom continually make inquiries as to his condition. A RUMOR.

This morning, it was rumored that the friends of Thomas intended to make an effort to punch a hole in the wall of the saloon, in order to make it appear that the bullet from Thomas' pistol did not strike Downing, leaving it to be supposed that Downing accidentally shot himself. The walls of the salcon were carefully examined by a number of persons to-day and no bullet-hole found. It is known that Downing had no pistol at the time of the shooting, and never had one about him in the bar or elsowhere. Alleged Confidence Operations. Jusper Frazeo and J. S. Boyer had hearing before Justico Lowry yesterday ifternoon on a charge of peddling with out license. They were fined $25 and costs jointly. They were both arrested subsequently on a state warrant charging them with operating together as confilence men, and they were committed to jail. Boyer had a ring which he told a young man named Phillips was worth $8 but he needed money badly and would sell it for $2. It is alloged that Frazec who was standing near, said something that caused Phillips to buy, and afterwords the purchaser found that he was the victim of what the police call the "ring game," The accused will have a preliminary hearing on Tuesday. The police assert that the prisoners may have been working the same snap all summer and fall, and they are on the lookout for more victime and witnesses.

More New Books. The Public Library is in receipt of another invoice of new books, including the selections made by Miss Alice Tyler their advertisement in this paper and before the jury to-day he refused during her summer visit to Boston .--Among these are Hogarth's Works and other books not easy to find, besides a full set of Harper's Weekly, bound in 24 volumes. This is one of the most valuable acquisitions yet made to the library, constituting as it does a complete history of the most important events of the past quarter of a century.

A Synonsis of Her Testimony Befor

and gave what she knew about the dead girl and her troubles. No one in Lincoln except the members of the jury know what Mis. Carpenter testified to. She was the confidential friend of Miss Burns and had given her shelter whenever she visited Decatur. Miss Burns was the guest of Mrs. Carponter, in Decatur, for two or three weeks during the month of July, and also in Sentember for a few days. When Mrs. C. heard of the murtler of Miss Burns also at once wrote to the Lincoln marshal, asking about the circumstances. Thursday a Lincoln officer came to Decatur and saw Mrs. C., heard her story, and yesterday a telegram came for her to go to Lincoln and testify before the jury. The Reguelican is in possession of the main points in Mrs. Carpenter's testimony, despite the secrecy preserved at Lincoln. It is in substance as follows: She had known Zura Burns for some years; Zura had visited her home at Decatur in July, and seemed to be in trouble. Witness knew that in the summer of 1883 the deceased was a servant in the family of O. A. Carpenter, at Lincoln; know also that she was engaged to marry a young man named Thomas Dukes, of Kowana, Ind., and that she was also engaged to marry a Lincoln young man, who was in Decatur in September and wout to Kansas in the same month. While Zura was at the home of witness, she received letters from a mar-

It is stated that Mrs. Carpenter took several letters to Lincoln with her which wont before the jury, but their contents are not known. It is understood, however, they strongly implicate O. A. Carpentor in the ruin of the girl. It is also asserted that on one occasion at least, while in Decatur, Miss Barns received money from Mr. Carpenter, who it should bo stated is not a relative of Mrs, Car-

The jury has not returned a verdict, but will probably do so this evening. The onse at present looks very dark for Carponter, and if he is guilty he ought to be hung at once. The excitement at Lincoln over the case is intense. The body of the girl was taken through of the victim, was in charge of the re-Misses Amanda Rooves, Mary Simpson and other servant girls at work at the Now Doming hotel here, know Miss Burns, but none of them had may idea that she was in trouble, or that she had been betrayed. Miss Reeves used to live at Vandalia, where the Burns family once resided. She told a Republican reporter to-day that she had known Miss Burns ever since she was a little girl, and had always found her a quiet, modest girl. The Burns family once lived at Bamsey, while Miss Reeves was in Vandalia. She know nothing of Miss Burns' trouble. She had been told by the victim of the murder that she was to marry a young man in Indiana sometime this fall, and that she was getting ready for the wedding. ARREST OF O. A. CARPENTER (Special to the Republicana) LINCOLN, ILL, Oct. 20, 11 a. m.-This foremoon at 10 o'clock O. A. Carpenter was arrested in his office by Deputy Sheriff Cunningham, on a warrant sworn out by R. B. Forrest, charging him with the marder of Zura Burns. The warrant was sworn out after the jury had heard the damaging evidence given by Mrs. Fannie Carpenter, of Decatur, and after Detective Preston Butter, of Bloomington, and made an important discovery. Butter examined Carpenters premiers, and on looking at his baggy he found what looked like human blood on the lines of the larness, on the buggy seat and on the heavy end of the buggy whip. When asked previous to his arrest to go before Estate business in that growing city. See to do so, and though he was to say a word about the case. Carpenter is in July and though the interest is great there have been heard no ugly expressions affecting the safety of the prisoner, who has heretofore borne a good reputation. The coroner and state's attorney left for Chicago this forenoon, taking with them the blood-stained arricles found in Carpenter's buggy. They will pe submitted to experts at Chicago for a critical examination. The sherrif has selected a double body Gov. Hamilton to have the Lincoln military company turn out in case of an assnult on the jail. Thomas Dukes, the lover of the dead girl, was expected to arrive in Lincoln to-day from Kewanna, but he did not come. The jury has not yet returned a verdict.
